

Neurosciences in Berlin – International PhD Fellowships

The Einstein Center for Neurosciences Berlin invites applications for its PhD program starting in fall 2019.

Outstanding candidates with a bachelor's degree are welcome to apply for our 'Fast Track PhD' program.

About the Einstein Center for Neurosciences Berlin

The center was initiated to establish an umbrella structure that specifically fosters interdisciplinary, collaborative research by facilitating synergies between existing research groups and promoting interaction on all levels.

Einstein Training Program

- Initial boot camp for all students (crash courses in all relevant disciplines)
- Initial lab rotation period of 6 months
- Individual assessment to personalize core curriculum
- Continuing education program
- Supervision via PhD committees
- Encouragement and support for independence of excellent young scientists
- Student fellowships

Fellowships will start fall 2019.
For more details: www.ecn-berlin.de